Northwest Missouri State Teachers College

VOLUME XIII

MARYVILLE, MISSOURI, MONDAY, SEPTEMBER 27, 1926

NUMBER 1

More Than 700 Are Enrolled in S. T. C. Classes

Exact Figures Not Available, But Indications Are That Total Will Be Above Par—New System Used.

Although the exact figures on the total enrollment at the College have not been compiled in the office, indications are that the total registration this year will probably be above par for the last three years and will closely approximate that of last year, when the fall quarter had a record matriculation.

Students are still drifting into the College from outlying towns in the district. Many of these students found it impossible to come to Maryville at the start of the quarter because of the curtailed train service and impassable roads into Maryville.

A rough estimate at totals indicates that there will be in the neighborhood of 750 students enrolled in the College when those who are taking work in the Conservatory of music have been added. Each quarter it takes some time to strike out duplicates and compile this exclusive list.

Matriculation this quarter was carried on in a much more uniform and systematic manner than in the past. It was carried on over a period of two days, with freshmen enrolling on Tuesday, September 14, and Sophomores and upperclassmen registering on the following day. There was to have been a late enrollment fee charged to all who did not register on these days, but this rule was done away with when the storm made it impossible for many to arrive in Maryville on time.

The freshman enrollment was carried on with Mr. Cooper, business advisor of the freshman class, in charge. He was assisted by the chairmen of the various departments and several additional faculty members, and the work was carried on in a well-regulated manner.

The advantageous thing about Freshman Day was that it made possible careful supervision of the choosing of courses. In the past there have been many students who found themselves lacking in their senior year because they had not been properly advised concerning the fundamental courses when they were freshmen. It is believed that this will not be the case with the present class. It was carefully pointed out to each student that he should work off his requirements in the first two years and steps were taken to see that prerequisite courses were placed on the programs.

The sophomores and upperclassmen registered under much the same conditions on Wednesday as did the first-year students on the day before. The chairmen of the different departments were in charge, however.

Take State Rule

Northwest Missouri High School Athletic Association Adapts Missouri Standards of Eligibility.

Official action making eligibility rules of the Northwest Missouri High School Athletic Association the same as those of the state association featured the meeting of the board of control of the organization in St. Joseph recently.

L. E. Ziegler, superintendent of the Maryville schools and president of the association, and Mr. Mapel, director of information at the College, attended the meeting, which was held at 1 o'clock at the Hotel Robidoux. Mr. Mapel was elected corresponding secretary and treasurer of the association.

It was decided to make the eligibility rules of the organization conform with those adopted by the state body at a meeting last spring, but the official action of the board was not made until Saturday.

President Ziegler appointed managers for three high school activities at the meeting. W. H. McDonald of Trenton will be football manager, U. L. Riley of Maitland will handle outdoor basketball, and J. M. Broadbent of Martinsville will be in charge of debating.

It was decided at the meeting to have new copies of the revised constitution of the organization printed and sent to members as soon as possible.

Women Students Now In Approved Houses

System Is by no Means New Here—Each House Has Card Owned by School.

A new system for marking the approved houses for women students of the College was introduced at the beginning of this quarter. A green display card has the following upon it: "Approved House for College Women," and is signed by President Lamkin. This card is the property of the College and may be taken back at any time that the house does not meet with the College approval.

This system of approved houses for women students is by no means a new system in use by the College. The College has always required a certain standard that must be met by the persons who take in students. This is done for the protection of the students in every way and that they may have the proper and necessary environmental conditions.

No woman student is permitted to attend the College who does not stay in one of the approved homes.

A total of 300 pupils were enrolled in the schools of Hardin according to the figures given by Supt. H. H. Schaeperkotter.

The King Is Dead—Long Live the King

With this first issue of the school year 1926-27 the College weekly newspaper appears under a different name. From now on it will be known as THE NORTHWEST MISSOURIAN.

The Green and White Courier is dead insofar as the name is concerned. It has died after twelve years of life, to be born again in what is believed to be a more accurate name to express that for which it stands.

The College is a Northwest Missouri institution. As such it was ordained to serve Northwest Missouri. Why, then, should not the voice of the College bespeak its name?

To many the old name was meaningless. Green and White Courier was known to students and to those intimately connected with them. But to the outsider it meant nothing. Green and white are the College colors. As such they fill a certain niche in college life which can only be theirs to have and to hold.

But as the descriptive name for the college paper, Green and White Courier has failed.

Therefore, the new name is born with this issue. THE NORTHWEST MISSOURIAN, as the voice of the Northwest Missouri State Teachers College, will endeavor to speak to Northwest Missouri. As the paper is the child of the College, even so it is the grandchild of Northwest Missouri. May it ever carry on.

"Attend Church"

President Lamkin Urges Religious Affiliations—Also Talks on Subject of Students With Cars.

Students of the College were urged to affiliate themselves with some Maryville church at once and to make church attendance a part of their regular program by President Lamkin at the first regular assembly of the fall quarter.

President Lamkin said: "The great majority of you are away from home. This coming Sunday will be your first Sunday in Maryville this school year. I should like to see each student of the College attend church as regularly each Sunday as he does his classes each day."

Mr. Lamkin also spoke briefly upon the subject of students bringing their automobiles to school with them.

"We haven't asked students to come here without their cars," he said, "and my observation of schools where this ruling is in effect has been that the greatest thing it does is to afford stories for the newspapers."

"All that we ask is that you use common sense in the driving and parking of your cars."

Mr. Lamkin then asked that no cars be parked at the unloading places in front and on the east of the administration building, and at the unloading place on fourth street, by the gymnasium.

In accordance with the custom of last year, the International Sunday School lesson for the coming Sunday will be read as the devotional at assembly. Assemblies will be held at ten o'clock each Wednesday, and all students are expected to attend.

COMMERCE DEPARTMENT PLANS LABORATORY TRIP

The advanced classes of the Commerce department are planning on making a laboratory trip to St. Joseph in order that they can make a practical study of the conditions and manner of conducting businesses that they are now studying. The trip and study will consume the largest part of the day. Several large wholesale and business houses and several of the banks will be visited. The class will be entertained by the St. Joseph Commerce Club.

Wyman and Yeo Named to Head Student Ass'n

Election to be Held Tuesday—Mr. Colbert Discusses Traditions and History of the College in Assembly.

The Student Government Association was in charge of the assembly last Wednesday. Cleo Wyman, a senior, and Burdette Yeo, a senior were nominated for the presidency of the association. The primary is to be held Thursday, Sept. 30. Students may vote for any person for this office who have 50 or more hours to their credit and with an average of M or above, if they do not wish to vote for one of the two nominated.

Mr. Colbert Gives Address

Another feature of the student meeting was an address by Mr. Colbert, head of the mathematics department, on the history of the college and its traditions.

"While this is not a very complete history," Mr. Colbert said, "I will try to name a few of the outstanding points."

"Twenty years ago last June the first session of school was held in the old high school building. The assemblies, when there were any, were held in the First Methodist Church on Main street. The fall, winter and spring quarters met in the Seminary building, erected by the Methodists years previous. Also classes were held for the teachers training school in the basement of the city library. Another department met in the rooms over the Democrat-Forum offices."

Plenty of Exercise.

"On the campus, just east of the new tennis courts was a frame building. This building was used as an office for the nursery, but was converted into class rooms for the agricultural and art departments. These departments had at least their initial letter in common."

"There was plenty of physical exercise because a student might have to journey downtown and back for his classes. In 1910 the recitations were being conducted in the east end of the new used building. This building was not yet completed and we had to listen to the carpenters and other workers. It was a hard job teaching."

"The enrollment has increased from an average of 200 the first year to over 1200 this last summer. There were fifteen faculty members at the beginning of the School. The finances were poor but the work went on the best way possible. The College is now an accredited college."

Student Fund Aids Many.

"Among the traditions and customs of the College that have been passed down in the past years is that of the student enrollment fund," said Mr. Colbert, "this has benefited more than fifty persons since it has been instituted. Various classes have contributed to the fund and it now exceeds a thousand dollars."

Honors to Girls

Three Women Students of College Make All E in the Summer Quarter.

Scholastic honors for the summer term went to three girls, all of whom made a grade of excellence in each subject taken during the quarter. At the beginning of each quarter at the College it is the custom to announce those students who have made all E.

The honor role for the summer term includes Julia Campbell, Louise Freeman, and Merce Williams.

Miss Campbell made a straight E in English 170, History 10c, Algebra 61b, and History 10a. Miss Freeman made E in Commerce 122 and Commerce 101, and E minus in English 11b and Spanish 110.

Miss Williams made three E grades and one E minus, all of her subjects being in the Commerce Department. She made E in Commerce 95, Commerce 101, and Commerce 12c, and E minus in Commerce 111.

There were several students who made the rating of excellence in all of their subjects, but none of them were taking the full ten hours of collegiate work. In the list were five women students and three men.

President Lamkin has indicated that he will follow his policy of announcing the names of all persons making a straight E in ten hours of work. He will announce those who win this distinction during the fall quarter shortly after the beginning of the winter term.

Seniors Nominate for Seats in the Council

Class Officers Also Nominated—Class Members Fill Out Statistical Blanks.

The Senior Class held its first meeting Friday afternoon, September 17, for the purpose of nominating candidates for the Student Council. The following students were nominated: Ward Barnes, Clarence Bush, Guy Canady, Nelle Castle, Wilbur Cox, Wilson Craig, Dorothy England, Elizabeth Mills, Everett Wright and Burdette Yeo.

A committee comprising of Burdette Yeo, Wilson Craig, Elizabeth Mills and Florida Moore was selected to nominate class officers.

Blanks were passed out to be filled in with the number of hours, the major and minor subjects of every senior and when he expects to graduate.

Miss Dykes is the faculty adviser of the class.

Skidmore

Mr. Pierce, Superintendent of Skidmore School, reports the classification of the school as follows:

First and second grades, 35; third and fourth, 33; fifth and sixth, 36; seventh and eighth, 35; High School, 97; Albright, 19; Burr Oak, 14; Good Will, 13; Liberty 12. Total 294.

Thirteen boys are out for basketball.

Husky Bearcats Out to Vie For Varsity Eleven

Coaches Lawrence and Jones are Whipping Squad Into Form—Many Letter Men Back With Promising New Material.

With the first football game of the season less than a week off, the College Bearcats are rounding into first-class shape under the tutelage of Coaches Lawrence and Jones. After a training period which has lasted since a week before the beginning of the fall quarter, the squad has gradually rounded into shape, and those who forecast say that a brilliant season awaits them.

Coaches Lawrence and Jones started the season with a number of letter men to form the nucleus of both line and backfield. With these and a number of recruits, the Bearcat mentors have developed a team which looks strong in practice. Frequent scrimmages of the last few days have shown that the Bearcats have power in both backfield and forward wall, and indications are that their defense is going to be stronger than usual.

Although the coaches have shown some preference in selection of men to play the different positions in practice, just who will start this week's game against Missouri Wesleyan at St. Joseph is still a mystery.

When asked about his starting lineup, Coach Lawrence scratched his head, grinned, and said, "I'm afraid I'll have to start about sixteen men because I can't decide what is the best combination."

All of which means that the wily little coach is taking into consideration all of the many qualities which go to make up a smooth-working combination.

More than thirty men are out for the squad this year and competition is strong for all positions. The likelihood is that "Shucks" Graham will play center and that Lewis, Hollar, Berst, Cox, Fouts, Hartman, and Lewis will play in the line, and that Willoughby, Captain Eads, O'Banion, Wilson, and Miller will play in the backfield. But that is more than eleven men, so there you are.

But Coach Lawrence said one day last week that he did not intend to play one certain combination of four men in his backfield this year, so the prospects seem bright.

The conference season for the Bearcats does not open until October 15. On this date the locals meet Cape Girardeau here. The following week they go to Springfield, and the week after that they will play Kirksville at Kirksville.

The final conference game will be on November 11, when the Bearcats will have the annual Aquistice Day tussle with the Mules of the Warrensburg Teachers College.

With No Trains and No Roads, Students Have Hard Time Arriving

If one should ask the question, what time does the 7:40 train arrive, he would naturally expect the answer to be 7:40, but if this question were asked a certain group of students who were on hand to meet the 7:40 Wabash passenger the evening of September 13, they would immediately say 12:30 a. m.

While the rain may have dampened the students externally it did not by far dampen their spirits, because it was a happy bunch that left the Wabash station in the "wee" hours of the morning.

A large number of the students arrived in Maryville on Sunday and Monday without inconvenience, but those who came Tuesday afternoon have a varied lot of stories to tell.

"One boy who drove over from Tarkio had to drive up and come down by the way of Clarinda, Ia. The roads were flooded over the regular highway. Other students who drove have stories of getting out and pushing the car back into the road, sometimes pushing it up the road, sliding and skidding, just in order to reach Maryville in time to start the new term."

Another group who were stranded on the Burlington night train, had their story to tell.

Happy, because of the lack of a single grouch in their party, this group of young men and women spent the night of September 14 in the coaches of the train at Bolckow. Flooded tracks both to the north and south of them (Continued on Page 4) were the cause of their remaining in this town.

The train had come as far north as a point between Bolckow and Barnard but when the waters started rising above the tracks the crew in charge decided to take the train back to Bolckow. Water had flooded the tracks to the south and it was necessary for the train to travel through water that came to the second step on the coaches to get into the station.

Some of the Maryville business men who were on the train stayed in the hotel but the students and most of the other passengers remained on the train throughout the night. When the train returned to Bolckow it was near midnight, but the students awakened the proprietor of a store to get something to eat. Few slept after returning to the train and most of the night was spent in telling stories and in singing.

Trucks and motor cars were hired in Bolckow the next morning and the passengers came in these conveyances as far as Barnard. Here a bridge was pronounced unsafe even for walking over, but the students risked it anyway and were met by taxis and a bus which brought them the remainder of the journey to Maryville, arriving here about noon.

A large number of students entered school at the beginning of the second week because of their being unable to get here sooner.

High School Notes

Albany

The Albany public schools opened with the grade enrollment about normal although the number of high school students is a little smaller than last year. The students in high school here this year are about 200. The grade enrollment totals 280. At the opening of the term last year there were 210 high school students.

Burlington Junction

The Burlington Junction Public Schools opened with a good enrollment. There are 231 pupils enrolled in the school. There are 124 pupils in the grades and 107 in the high school. Forty-two of the high school pupils are non-resident pupils.

The high school enrollment is just eight short of last year's total, which was the largest ever enrolled in the local school.

Basketball at B. J. H. S. is getting a good start. Sixteen boys and sixteen girls are practicing, and from these the two teams will be selected.

for the outdoor season. Coach Thompson will schedule six outdoor games in the outdoor county league, three at home and three away. The schedule is arranged by a committee selected from the schools over the county and has not yet been completed.

Coneh Thompson thinks that from the material available this year both boys and girls teams will be strong ones.

Oregon

The Oregon schools opened with an enrollment of 302 pupils, ninety-four signing up for the high school courses and 208 being enrolled in the grades. This is a decrease of twenty-three under the enrollment for high school last year and an increase of 16 over the grade enrollment. The total enrollment shows a decrease of seven but this in all probability will be made up in late enrollment.

An addition to the staff of teachers has been made in the person of Miss Mayme Green, who will be music supervisor the coming term.

Miss Green is an Oregon girl, a graduate of the State Teachers College at Maryville. She is thoroughly versed in musical methods and we predict a most successful year for the music department of our public schools.

Lathrop

Lathrop's schools opened Monday, September 6, with an enrollment of 167 in the grades and seventy-one in the high school. Superintendent Berger is well pleased and says there is a fine spirit all through the school.

New Theatre Showing High Type Pictures

Maryville's new theatre, The Missouri, is entering to College patronage by the type of pictures it is showing. On the night of Freshman Day, the Missouri co-operated with the administration of the College in entertaining the first-year students at its night performance.

"The Volga Boatmen," a film adaptation of Konrad Bercovici's famous novel, is showing at the Missouri tonight. This picture played on Broadway in New York all summer and is one of the outstanding pictures produced under the direction of Cecil B. De Mille.

Other outstanding pictures of this week are "His Master's Voice," featuring Thunder, the marvel dog, "Silence," and "The Lone Wolf Returns." The last picture is from the famous Vance series.

Nearly two hundred freshmen were guests of the College and the Missouri Theatre at a showing of "The Waltz Dream" at the Missouri Theatre, Tuesday evening, September 14. The photo-play was a UFA production, having been made in Germany and is an example of splendid photography. This was the first modern foreign-made production to be shown in Maryville.

Hamilton

There are thirty-four boys enrolled in the vocational agriculture class in the Hamilton High School and E. M. Woods, who comes from Braymer is giving his full time to the course.

Mr. Wood and his thirty-four boys ask the community for its wholehearted support in their projects and other community efforts and promises to give in return a good account.

BIG AND LITTLE SISTER PARTY

The Y. W. C. A. gave a party for the first year freshman girls in connection with the sponsoring of the Big Sister movement for the coming year, Tuesday evening, Sept. 14, in the College library.

This movement is sponsored each year by the older members of the Y. W. C. A. Each member is given the names of several of the new girls and she is to be the Big Sister to them for the coming quarter. This system helps to take away the loneliness of the surroundings and the troubles that always confront the first year students.

The evening was spent in group games and songs and a program of several vocal solos and readings was given by Elizabeth Mills and Mary Elizabeth Jones. Refreshments consisting of ice cream cones were served to over two hundred girls.

Dorothy England was in charge of the program.

Wednesday while the other students were matriculating. The latter reported for classwork on Thursday. High school students were allowed to register on either day, and their work began on Thursday.

The Demonstration School at the College also opened Thursday, with Miss Keith again in charge.

The enrollment for this branch of the College is crowded this year. Many parents were turned down after the school had been filled. The number of students is limited this year and only those who applied early this summer were able to secure places for their children.

The College section at Tolles holds all records for smartness.

A special section of this store is devoted exclusively to college apparel. Where the freshman can find everything fresh and the sophomore—everything sophisticated.

It is filled with the sort of clothing, hats and items of furnishings that are correct and right now it is packed with the college men who don't want to reach the campus and be corrected.
